Landmarks of a

Seton Hall, a residence for graduate nurses, marks a milestone in the marvelous expansion of facilities for the Sacred Heart Hospital. Christ extends His healing hand to all in the Lehigh Valley through the work done for the sick and injured.

This shrine of Our Lady of Fatima stands as a monument to commemorate the fifty years that St. John the Baptist Church has served the people of the Valley by bringing the sacraments and the voice of Christ to them.

The role of the Catholic Church has been, is, and always will be prominent in the historic Lehigh Valley. Landmarks tell the story of dividends reaped from a well-founded past, with provisions for the present, and investments for the future.

Among these monuments of Catholicity stands a familiar red brick structure, Saint Catharine of Siena Church. This site now holds a new meaning for Catholics in this area, for upon the marble floor of the sanctuary a red velvet throne marks it as the Cathedral Church of a bishop and the home of a new diocese.

The stream of Catholic life, stimulated by this newly bestowed honor, surges through Berks, Carbon, Lehigh, Northampton, and Schuylkill counties revitalizing Catholic action and spirit.

*Catholic Heritage dot the Valley, giving atmosphere
to the new Diocese of

On the corner of Sixth and Chew Streets is a comparatively new Catholic landmark, the Carroll Hall Annex to Central Catholic High School. It is a symbol of our old and rich heritage of Christian teachings.

A Shepherd

Eight and a half years ago John Cardinal O'Hara, then Archbishop, took the helm of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia. The task was indeed great but this massive work in no way daunted his spirits. Each problem was carefully studied and the solution found. His primary objective was the honor and glory of God and the good of mankind. His Eminence's educational interests were realized as many schools were erected affording a Catholic education for every Catholic student. His holy life will remain a splendid example for us, and his tireless efforts will not be forgotten.

The shepherd of the flock, John Cardinal O'Hara, meditates momentarily on the occasion of being raised to the dignity of cardinal.

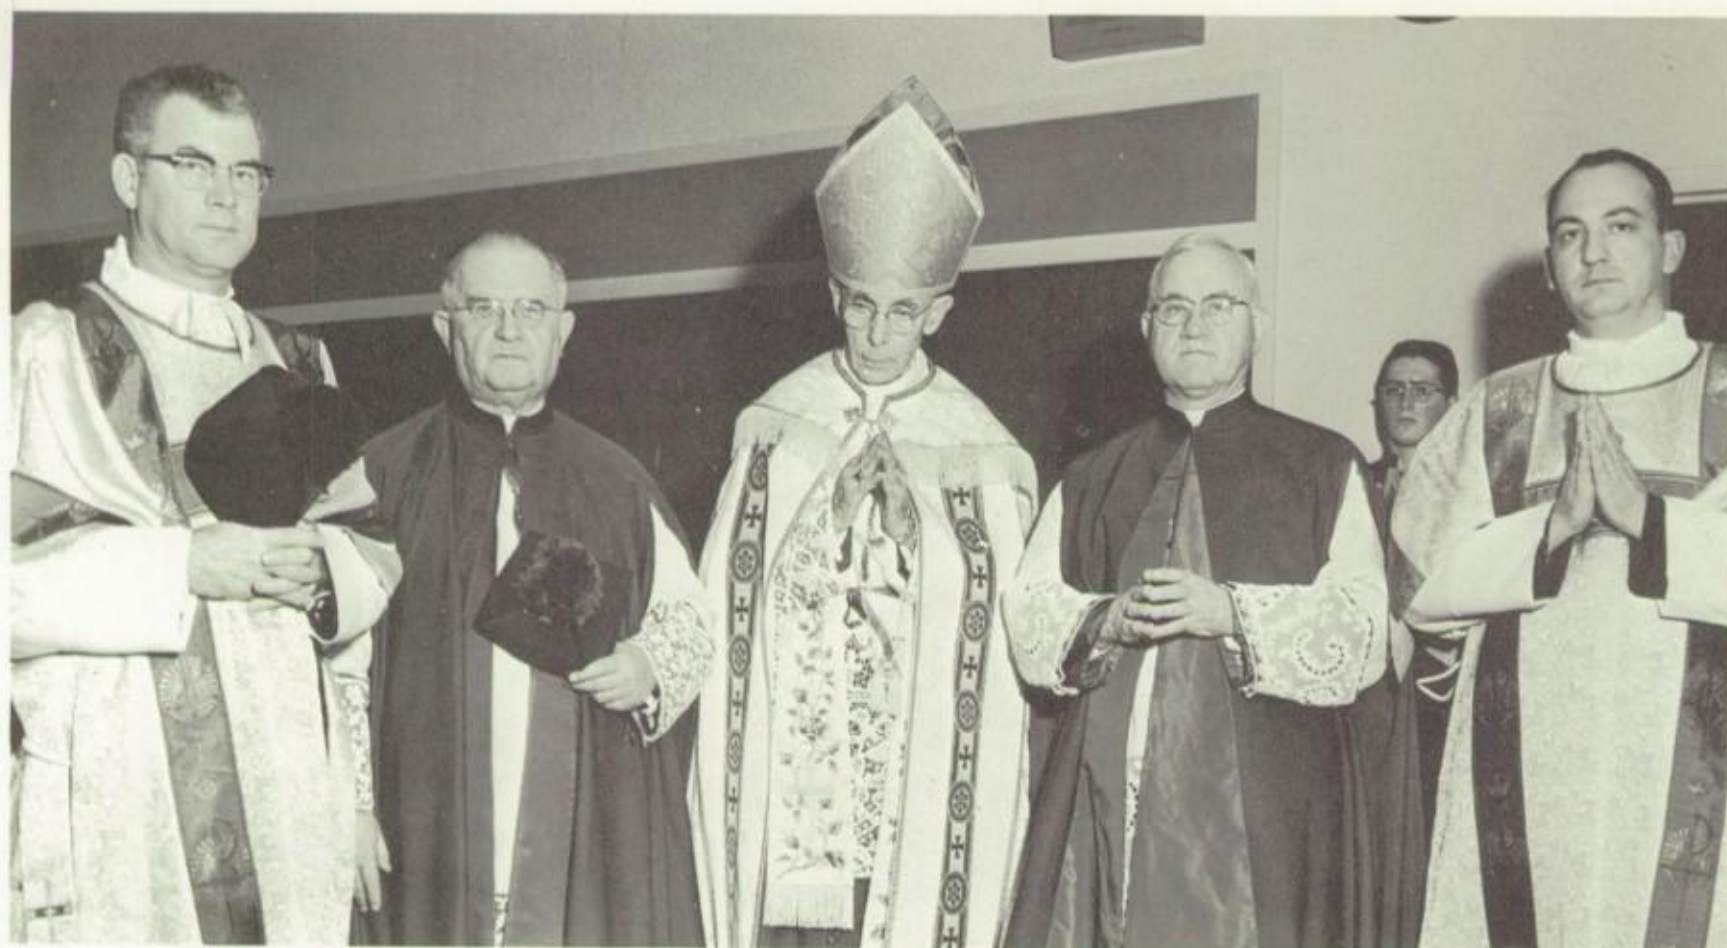

His Eminence humbly invokes the blessing of God at the dedication of Central Catholic's annex, Carroll Hall. Photograph from dedication, 1957

His Spirit Remains.

Reverend Stephen J. Daday, Monsignor Leo G. Fink, John Cardinal O'Hara, as Archbishop, Monsignor George M. Petro, and Reverend Henry E. Strassner prepare to form the solemn procession which will open the ceremonies at which Carroll Hall will be blessed and dedicated for use by the freshmen.

With deep reverence, these children touch their memorial cards to Cardinal O'Hara's pastoral ring. He was an earnest advocate of a sound educational program, and his great love and interest for children was typical of his holy life. He was a true friend.

150 Years of Tradition Enriches

Most Reverend
JOHN J. KROL, D.D., J.C.D.
Archbishop of Philadelphia

The Diocese of Allentown, although new, benefits from the age and wisdom of the seasoned Philadelphia Diocese of which it was formerly a part. Pioneering as the first bishop of Allentown, the Most Reverend Joseph McShea, D.D., will guide the growth of his young see, comprising Berks, Carbon, Lehigh, Northampton, and Schuylkill Counties, to a full and vigorous life.

Two theological seminaries, three orphanages, two schools for retarded children, four homes for convalescents and the aged, ninety-eight parish elementary schools and fourteen high schools already bless the five county area. With tradition as a foundation and hope and hard work for building stones the edifice of the new diocese is destined for the stars.

New Diocese of Allentown.

Most Reverend
JOSEPH McSHEA, D.D.
Bishop of Allentown

The Diocese of Philadelphia, established on April 8, 1808 under the guidance of Michael Egan, O.S.F., its first bishop, and erected to an archdiocese on February 12, 1875 with James Frederick Wood as its first archbishop, can look with pride to its rich and marvelous history. Early years of struggle against prejudice, subsequent times of internal development, and present day leadership in Catholic action testify to the growth, vitality, and maturity of the diocese. Its parochial school system enjoys great prominence in the field of education, and St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, answering the need for priests, merits eminence for populating the ecclesiastical ranks with well equipped clerics. Under the direction of the Most Reverend John J. Krol, D.D., J.C.D., the newly appointed Archbishop of Philadelphia, the diocese looks ahead with holy enthusiasm to its ever-increasing spiritual and educational obligations.

These pictures, courtesy of the Call-Chronicle of Allentown, show Bishop McShea chatting, enjoying a joke, meditating, and relaxing.

Leaders of Wisdom and Experience

The Right Reverend Monsignor Leo Gregory Fink as director of Central Catholic has devoted many years to the improvement and growth of our school. His untiring efforts have set a splendid example for us.

From our Catholic forefathers

Teaching, Guidance, Participation! These are a few of the many ways our priests and religious serve us in our daily requirements. Besides offering the Mass and contributing in social events, their wholesome advice on typical teenage problems is always available for us. We should all be thankful for this dedicated faculty we are blest with, so, to them and their purpose at C.C.H.S., we are most grateful.

Jesuits vs. Jansenism! Father Fagan interprets Joseph Sowards' answer about the Jesuits' fight in the sixteenth century heresy of Jansenism. Such problems like heresies and the papacy are typical of sophomore Religion.

Proving a God does exist in Father Butler's senior Religion class is easy once you learn apologetics, the defense of your faith. Through ordinary reasoning and definite proof, Brenda Simonelli can prove God exists.

we inherit our cherished Faith.

Benediction is a constant reminder for our students to elevate and offer their hearts and minds to God. This affords an ideal opportunity for them to thank God for their blessings and ask Him for their daily needs.

Come Follow Me! With Father Raffel's guidance and her textbook, Sharon McGee can show her classmates how Christ chose His apostles and made them fishers of men. This half of freshman religion is important, as early understanding strengthens faith.

Prospective radio technicians work vigorously and steadfastly to tin their soldering irons. Sister Eufrida tells Stanley Zaklukiewicz and Lawrence Rapp that this is an initial barrier to overthrow before building a detector unit.

Today's scientific accomplishments have brought about a new stress on the importance of a sound scientific education for all students. This emphasizes the need for a competent science department. We at Central Catholic are fortunate in having just such a teaching staff in science. Our Franciscan Sisters are always willing to help a needy student, although it may mean taking time out of their busy schedules. For those whose interest has been stirred beyond the realm of purely required matter, the Science Club opens the door to further knowledge. The members gather information and discuss topics which will benefit them in preparing a project for the Science Fair. Our capable faculty, adequate facilities, and available activities blend together to offer the students an interesting and worthwhile science program. What they learn will act as a guidepost throughout their lives so that they may live more wisely.

Three, two, one! The countdown is on as T. Szanaki, M. Homer, E. Flynn, and M. Ryan collaborate under the guidance of smiling Sister Raymond Therese to show the rest of the class how spontaneous combustion starts many fires.

Future physicists employ their power of observation in the physics lab. While experimenting with specific gravity, Cornelius Keeney and James Satterlee accept the help of Sister M. Isadora. Richard Magyar and Joel Hoffner pool their knowledge while Robert Henrich records important data.

Plant or animal? Kathryn Yeager and classmates focus their microscopes in order to find the answer. Sister Terence watches approvingly as Robert Wormer prepares glass slides for viewing the structure of Protococcus.

Central Catholic's English department is staffed by the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. Under the guidance of the Sisters and Mother Helen Frances, head of the department, the student body develops skill and facility in the use of our native language. Everyone has ample opportunity for establishing a strong foundation in all of the phases of English: grammar, correct usage, composition and literature. College-minded boys and girls find themselves well prepared; those going into the business world are equally ready.

The Sisters also sponsor creative writing and journalism classes and moderate the school paper, magazine, and yearbook as extra curricular activities.

A Christmas Carol is the topic for discussion in Miss Hogan's English class. Richard Kanuck is discussing the story with the class. After using the Catholic Authors 4-sight, their purpose is to acquire better reading habits from these teenage reports.

English classes

Comparing the merits of Alice Adams with today's teenagers in a panel discussion are S. McClafferty, J. Horwath, R. Beiner, and D. Baptiste who is standing. Through the realization of experiences and ideas the students will gain practical knowledge.

Sister M. Alice Bernard, I.H.M. . . . English II, III.

ignite sparks of creative genius.

Grammar is just good sense. Miss Gavin makes sentence analysis fun. Ann Walsh locates the predicate on the chart while Louis Yurasits points to the verb which the class in turn will parse.

Hail, Hail Macbeth! Explaining to David Weir the climax of Shakespeare's great tragedy is Eleanor Grabias. By hearing records the students can better understand, realize, and appreciate the play's dramatic structure.

Subtracting Polynomials. The mastery of polynomials can be accomplished only by practice. Lawrence DeCaesar proves this at the blackboard while Matthew Zaboy, Diana Podorski and Mary Helen Plata wait for their chance at the board. Sister M. Hildegard, M.S.C., checks the results.

George Albright convinces William Ehmer that if two angles given in a triangle are equal, the sides opposite them must also be equal. Sister Conradine nods approval. Janet White and Mary Alice Wright, next in turn, don't seem to be worried about the problem they will solve for the class.

The best way is the short way is the motto of all Algebra II classes. A time saver technique done by Richard Bernini and Diane Matejicka gains approval from Sister Annette and Frank Capobianco who says, "Any method that saves paper, time, and brain power is certainly worthwhile."

"Which polyhedron is it?" questions Robert Daday. Michael Seidick shows him that it can only be the octahedron. Thomas Peters, supervised by Sister Beatrice, forms the octahedron, one of the five regular polyhedrons. Lawrence McPeake and Bernard Olsovsky assist Thomas.

Mathematics develops a keen mind.

Central Catholic students think of the future. Mathematics classes play an important part in the plans of all C.C.H.S.'s men and women of tomorrow. There is hardly a task in the world for which some form of math is not essential. The Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart prepare Centralites for a place in the march of progress. In their strategic positions as teachers of mathematics, they lay strong foundations in algebra, geometry, and trigonometry courses. Whether a graduate chooses to go on for higher education, enter the business world, or industry he will find himself ready to meet the challenge.

Sprechen sie Deutsch? Here is a question to which the students in Father Albero's class would like to give an affirmative answer. Margaret Farkas and Alfred Tullock strive to improve the students' comprehension by demonstrating basic verb endings and the verbs to which they may be added.

"Mastery of verbs mean mastery of language," Sister Mary William insists. Sister is getting Francis Makos some help for his next verb form while James Wagner, Donald Stravino, Peter Goletz, Bernadine Clatch, and Judith Oljack busy themselves with their own verbal problems.

In this modern day and age, the study of a foreign language is very important. This world has become smaller and smaller with the development of the jet; therefore, the ability to converse in a modern language will be a great asset to Americans in their dealings with the people of the world.

The French, Spanish, and German studied in high school are a basis for further study in college.

Latin is studied because it is the beginning of many modern languages and because it is an excellent training for the mind. These four languages are all part of the curriculum of Central Catholic.

"Try switching them," says Sister Lucille, who is explaining the position of the direct and indirect object pronouns in affirmative command. In a French II class, Mary McIntyre and Charmain Frisch hold a board and Martin Dowling arranges the blocks on which the words are printed.

Past records

We are living in an everchanging world and the social, economic, and political problems created are many. Understanding the reason for change will help us accept this challenge of program. Through World and American History we acquire a knowledge of early generations and see how they advanced and prospered. Since history seems to follow a certain path, we can apply this information and get ready for our future. The Sisters of St. Joseph have undertaken the duties of training and developing the minds of the students so that they will be well prepared citizens.

Youth in politics! Chairman Stephen Hudacek listens with close attention to the question asked during the presidential debate. Gerald Adameik and Terry DeGroot, Democratic panel members, are willing to answer. Aiding them are Joseph Binder and Elizabeth Deising. Republican representatives are John Eder, Dale Grate, Sandra Bernini, and Joan McQuillen. The primary purpose of the discussion is to determine whether the candidates possess qualifications which are necessary and important for leadership.

Sister Stella Francis, through the use of charts, gives a clear understanding of our Constitution, the fundamental law of the land. Sandra Gehris, Maria Gargagliano, Joanne Gardner, Sally Boandl, Louis Gallucci, David Baptiste, and James Burns are the pupils.

Foundations of Democracy—Ronald Wauters, Carol Aster, Nancy Ayers, and John Gaffney prepare to read reports that show ancient Greek and Roman culture in our government. Sister Marie Juliette stresses the lesson's importance.

All eyes on the chart. An ability to type accurately without looking at the keys is the aim of these young typists. As Sister is dictating, the students continue the drill which will help them become proficient. The mastery of this course will spell out the student's success in an office.

Central Catholic pupils will have no difficulty supplying all the requirements in the business world of today. Through their efficient training they can gain knowledge, ability, and accuracy in bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, and all phases of office routine. All good students have an innate ability that should be developed to its fullest capacity. This is done through the close cooperation of students with their teachers, all aiming for perfection.

Efficiency counts in the world

Who will be the most efficient office girl? These students are going to be the leaders of tomorrow. How well the students acquaint themselves with the art of operating business machines shall determine the future success of business circles. This all important requirement is really very easy. Showing us that it is as simple as it looks are Frances Pammer, Joan McQuillen, Kathleen Hanlon, and Mary Helfrich.

What's ahead? Profitable positions in interesting fields of work will be opened to these girls. With the help of Sister Martin Joseph the students master the art of transcription.

Central's business students make "good business connections." Important communications today depend frequently on oral transmission. The proper technique is shown by Ernest Menichelli, who is placing calls. They are being received by Judith Watson, who relays them to Maryann Yaegerhofer.

Opportunity for culture abounds.

Two subjects, Music and Home Economics, play an important part in the lives of Central Catholic students. These subjects prepare each of them for a richer life in the future. The school library also has a prominent place in each student's day. These three phases of education can make a boy or girl a better individual if each uses them properly.

"Shall we display this new one?" David Brugger the co-librarian, asks Sister Audry. While Sister and David decide, Judith Kolowitz, the staff secretary, and Suzanne Gaul, the co-librarian, check the catalog for the number of the book. Every book has a number listed in the card catalog.

Service is their business.

Familiar faces around the school are those of our maintenance men Charles Feichtel, Michael Snyder, Frank Gehringer, John Keglovitz and Ludwig Sauerzoph. These men faithfully maintain the bright clean look of our school.

Smiling faces and busy hands. These ladies really fit the description. Helping to take care of the many students are: Helen Feirtag, Emma McFadden, Mary Keip, Emma Worman, Jean Fox, Catherine Wolf, and Jean Jacobs.

What would we do without them! Who? All of those wonderful people besides the faculty who keep our school running as smoothly as it does. There is hardly a problem that cannot be solved quickly and graciously by our hard working and obliging office staff. Bus tickets? record transcripts? or sick? They take care of everything with a smile. Nothing is too much trouble.

In addition to the needs we have supplied for us at the main office, we teenagers require special care at noon day refueling time. Our friendly cafeteria ladies spend many exhausting hours trying to fill the caverns in C.C.H.S. tummies. They take good care of all.

Juniors develop traits characteristic

The duties required of student government are many and varied. Whether conducting a drive or keeping a class in order, John Fry, Brian Bodnar, James Gibbons and Kathleen Coyle, four capable junior homeroom representatives, can always be found to have things under control. It isn't difficult to see why they were chosen.

LEONARDO DA VINCI

GIOVANNI DA PALESTRINA

Let's get together! Sister Raymond Therese and Sister Patricia Anne point out to sophomore student councilors, Thomas Miklos, Patricia Yurkovits, Carole Perkowski, and Joseph Viglietta that unity of purpose is necessary.

Every perfect wheel needs a strong hub; every smoothly running organization needs a good authority. The Student Council and Central Committee under the guidance of Sister Patricia Anne and Sister Raymond Therese form the cog which holds the faculty and the student body together and which extends authority even to the last boy or girl in school.

Our student government is patterned on a democratic rule in which the members represent the entire school by means of election. Candidates for office must exhibit qualities of leadership, citizenship, and loyalty. It is the duty of those elected to foster a scholastic and school-spirited atmosphere that will inspire all C.C.H.S. students to strive for the higher goals of Catholic education. Catholic leaders of yesterday set the example; our leaders of today walk in their steps.

They are guided by great Catholic

The newly installed Central Committee and junior and senior student councilors pledge their services. Row 1: Donna DeLucia, Annamarie Sosnowski, Ann Webre, Mary Ann Miller, Nancy Ernst, Judith Frasc, Mary Jane Latch, Jacqueline Reosch, Isabel Grass, Anna Marie Hussar, and Maureen Kennedy. Row 2: Richard Bernini, John Callaghan, Bernard Murtaugh, Daniel Olson, Edward

Piervallo, Michael Zaia, John Cichelli, Richard Kempf, Thomas Metz, Joseph Sarmir, and John Pesta. Row 3: Martina Anthony, Vice President; Thomas McGinley, Treasurer; Raymond Perkowski, President; and Sharon Lake, Secretary. Here they are! the Catholic leaders of today and tomorrow. C.C.H.S. looks to them for integrity and leadership.

In the name of the Father . . . One of the important duties of a student officer is to lead prayers at grace before and after meals in the cafeteria. Here, Judith Frasch performs her job of guiding others in prayer.

leaders.

Stop and look, before you become entangled in the busiest intersection in C.C.H.S. Student government members like Sally Brahm in this picture guide traffic at change of class time to prevent congestion in corridors.

Martina Anthony, Vice President, listens attentively as Raymond Perkowski, President, expresses enthusiastically the aim of the Central Committee to Thomas McGinley, our Treasurer, and Sharon Lake, Secretary. Hard work is their motto; success, their goal. Christ is their model; service, their role.

A look of satisfaction! Stephen Kotran, Sports Editor; Maureen Kennedy, Editor; Rosemary Peters, Associate Editor; Sandra Knotek, Business Manager; and David Brugger, Associate Sports Editor, herald the announcement of "a job well done" to all the staff members for their time and effort.

"Glen Echoes" telescopes

Fast, though not furious, is Rosemary Peters, a secretarial expert for Glen Echoes. Taking care of all of our correspondence and typing, she usually goes above and beyond the call of duty.

Taking precaution not to let go of a box of materials too soon, Ann Wons and Regina Ridyard help to ready equipment for work on the yearbook. Also rendering their service are Sharon McCarty, Joan Faccinnetto, and Helene Brown. There is always enough work.

On the job are some of our layout artists and croppers, consisting of George Keenan, Joseph Dalkner, and Raymond Wolf. Also working with them are Thomas Metz, Martin Torbert, Gregory Feichtel, and Thomas McGinley.

Getting all the attention is Jean Niedospial, who is showing plans for new color pictures to Stephanie Lewis, Mary Jane Latch, Anna Marie Hussar, Sister Mary Mercedes, faculty adviser, Sharon Lake, and Judith Papacciole.

Central's escapades.

This year's Glen Echoes marks the beginning of a new era in our yearbook history. Not only did we record the usual activities and scholastic and athletic events, but also a spectrum of colored dividers, adding to the quality and value of the yearbook. This achievement, brought about by long, hard and late hours of work by the senior staff with the help of our moderator, Sister Mary Mercedes, will, we hope, preface a succession of yearbooks greater and more beautifully colored. This book is also a tribute to the seniors whose effort in the patron drive gave us the support that we all needed to make this book a success.

"Seneschal" keeps its fingers on the pulse

Words of experience. Smiling beneath their hats are the co-editors of the Seneschal, Barbara Kessler and Isabel Grass. They are listening to Gerard E. Sherry, managing editor of a Californian newspaper, give them advice on the do's and don'ts for a paper.

Seal of approval! Lawrence Mily and Frances Ryan give a bright smile to show their approval. Through their efforts the green and gold column has become a success as well as an asset to the popularity of the paper.

Sports incorporated! Raymond Perkowski voices his opinion in an attempt to pick a picture for the paper. Carol Kostelnik and Victor Cavacini, associate sports editors, show a look of approval for his selection.

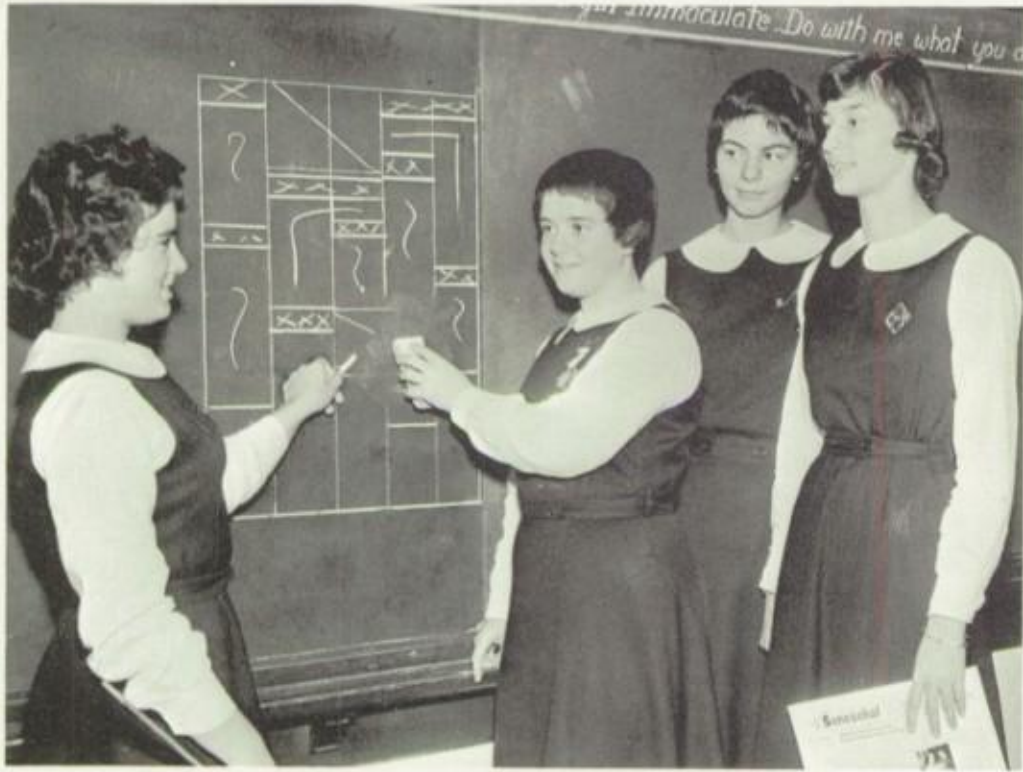

Ability, willingness, and eagerness are three of many qualities a Seneschal member must have in order to be a good journalist. Whether these students be sophomores, who are beginning to learn; juniors, who are at the reporting stage; or seniors, who take up the editors' positions; they know that they must do their best in order for the paper to be a success.

Under the guidance of the well-experienced moderator, Sister St. Ignatius, the Seneschal staff has brought the paper through deadline after deadline to the point where the paper has reached the quality of near perfection. Although impossible, perfection is the aim of these students; due to their hard and constant work they manage to turn out publications of quality fine enough to merit top awards.

of school events.

A definite layout is the first thing that must be done by a newspaper staff. Shown here are Lucretia Fulmer, Carolyn Cashman, Janet Ortwein and Joan Mihaleik planning the layout for one of the pages of the Seneschal.

Moderator to photographers. James Gallagher and Edward Piervallo listen to the instructions of the moderator, Sister St. Ignatius. These three tireless workers are essentially important to the success of the newspaper.

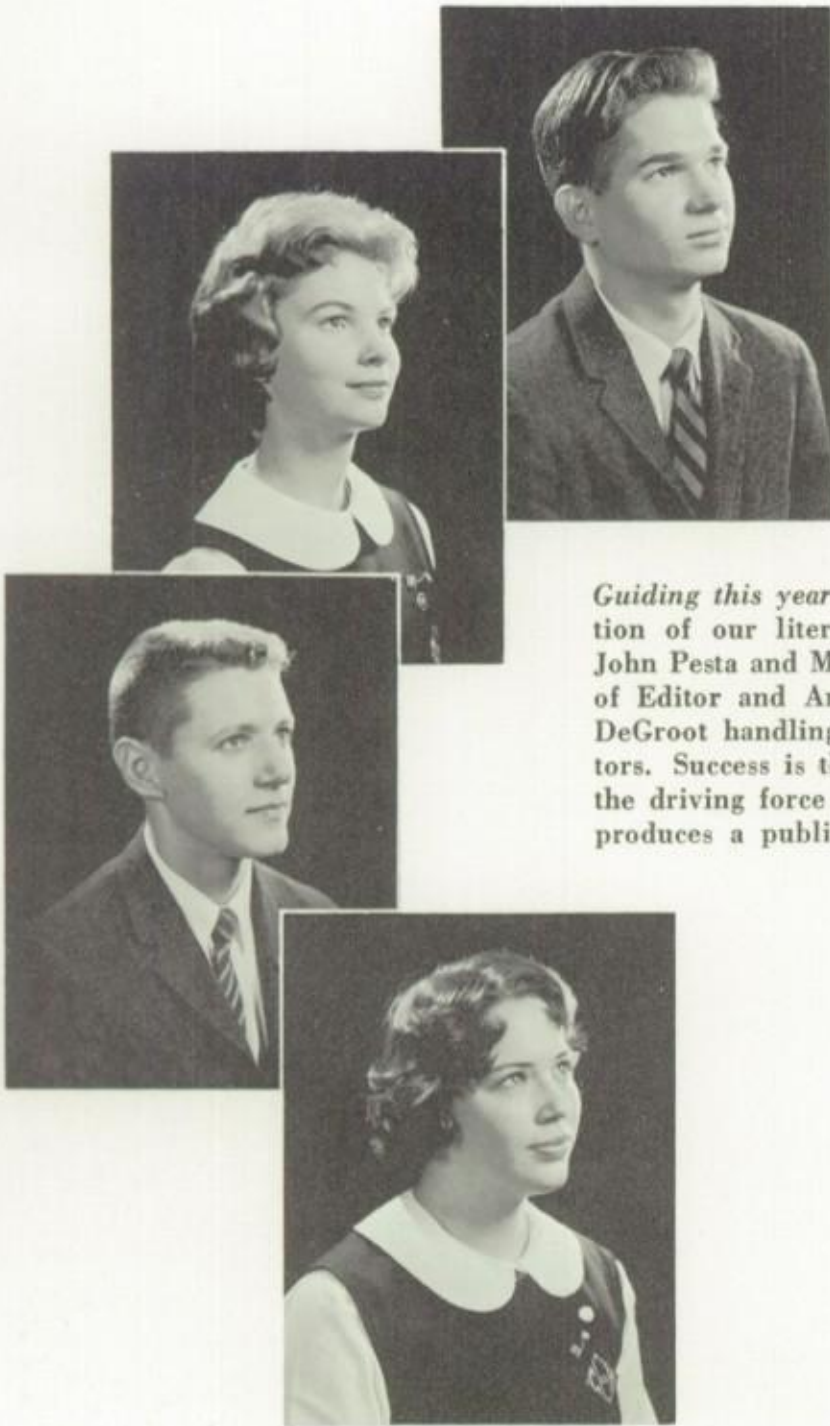

Busy as bees are these three senior typists, Patricia Nolan, Patricia Day, and Gloria Rex, as they pound away on their typewriters in order to meet a deadline. The work done by these girls exemplifies Seneschal spirit.

Keeping Posted! Posters are only symbols, but the two girls, Kathryn Locher and Mary Ann Kotch, shown in the picture above, are true examples of Seneschal members.

"Quill" displays

Guiding this year's potential prize-winning edition of our literary magazine, the Quill, are John Pesta and Mary Sullivan sharing the office of Editor and Andrew Ferenschak with Terry DeGroot handling the duties of Associate Editors. Success is the aim of these four who are the driving force behind the untiring staff that produces a publication of outstanding quality.

"You know, I think this has possibilities!" remarks Robert Saks during the process of copy reading a literary article, a required procedure to produce a prize-winning edition. Giving the matter serious consideration are staff members Carol Miller, Christine Haczewycz, Richard Kempf, David Weir, and Margaret Ryan.

Each confronted with her own problems, these Quill members, Julian Bauer, Josephine Goldsmith, Rosemarie Tognoli, Rosemarie Ifkovitch, Barbara Henry, Josephine Toczek, Elenore Horvath, Louise Trinkle and Frances Pammer work cheerfully but diligently to complete their various assignments and to make that deadline.

"Perfection can only be attained by adhering strictly to the rules," comments Sister Joseph Rita, faculty advisor of the literary magazine, to two zealous senior staff members, Nancy Talaber and Gerald Adamcik.

Quill, already in its third year at Central, is quickly becoming acknowledged as one of the "great" literary publications of this school. The 1961 edition, once again under the expert supervision of Sister Joseph Rita, certainly outshines all other previous editions. The work of any student is welcomed as potential Quill material; be it in the form of an essay, a poem, or a short story. Before being submitted for publication, all of the material goes before the staff in caucus to be read and "polished." This competent staff, composed of seniors, is instructed how to do their job quickly and with more efficiency by their attendance at the various press conferences held during the year. The finest work of both staff and student is recorded in a book we can be proud of.

Variety is the spice of life, and Central's annual variety show is really packed with both variety and spice. This combination of an industrious cast and the unceasing efforts of our faculty make this year's show one of the most successful in our history.

A choreographer's catastrophe is given to Mr. Fink, our musical "answer-man" for precise and accurate solving by Miss Stella, Variety Show dance instructor. Father Strassner, the producer of the show, aided by Father Butler and Father Rusek, tries to offer his own solution to the problem.

We are Siamese, if you please. Beneath the eyes of a Siamese idol, Janet Ortwein and Georgia Brown tell a story of Siam with their graceful motions.

"Big Top Time" is here

Ride 'em cowboy! Raymond Wolf shows Western prowess leaping high in this lariat dance. Hard work and much patience are the ingredients used. He mixes them well.

On with the show! Portraying our ringmaster, Raymond Perkowski also serves as a vocalist and master of ceremonies. A sparkling personality insures a good job.

Lida Rose is harmonized by Kathleen Potter, William Signarovitz, Alfred Schuler, Edward Kubinsky, Joan Mihalcik, Sandra Knotek, Dale Grate, and Rosemarie Scripek. It brings back fond memories of the gay twenties for the oldsters.

Lights, Mike, Action! These aspects of putting on a show are undertaken by Mr. G. Wukitch and Father Daday. R. Chase stands ready to help in regulating the proper amount of these effects for the Show's setting.

"Hold on fellows!" Everyone will agree that a good clown is the life of a circus and these comics are no exception. "The Big Top" still shakes with laughter and shouts of surprise from the awe-struck audience. Some fantastic antics of these fifteen clowns ranged anywhere from headstands to mid-air flips. Their colorful outfits are the latest style for a well-dressed jester, while their bright faces add to this hilarious spectacle.

I'm in the tumbling act! These were the famous last words of James Dal Maso before he fell from the shoulders of a clown and landed in a hospital bed. Our James returned to sing instead.

Lively performers guarantee a smile.

Every year Central Catholic presents its talent and geniality in the form of a Variety Show. These productions are planned and directed by the priests of the faculty and Mr. Joseph Fink and presented by students who are school spirited enough to give generously of their free time. Variety and enjoyment are the main objectives in these productions and the whole scene is comprised of a well balanced program of singing, dancing, and frolics. Weeks and months of work are put into the theme of the show and new ideas must be collected and arranged every year. The main spring of the organization is the co-producing team, Father Strassner and Mr. Fink. Indispensable support is given them by Fathers Butler and McNamara in comedy, Sister Hilda and Father Rusek in art, and Miss Stella in dancing.

Show Me the Way to Go Home is the cry of this lovable hobo, Edward Kubinsky, needing more help than his map.

A funny clown, a blaring band, and a ringmaster set a marvelous scene for a lively theme for this year's event. Who could resist the attraction of the "Big Top," the show that brought a capacity crowd every performance. Although Rockne Hall's polished floor is a poor substitute for a lot of musty sawdust, the art work produced the enchanting atmosphere of the circus. Indian, cowboy, and Siamese dancers performed their intricate steps with ease and precision delighting spectators with their unique dances. Clowns shook the rafters with their tumbling act, and hilarious comedy interludes punctuated the whole show with laughter. Twelve soloists gracefully lead the chorus into many old and new musical favorites. Our Variety Shows improve with the years. This one will be hard to beat.

The 50th State seasons the Prom

North to Alaska via Rockne Hall! This was the theme which embraced the couples as they slowly drifted into this winter wonderland. The orchestra's music added to the delightful atmosphere as the students danced beneath the stars flanked by colorful decorations. The evening left nothing to be desired.

Greetings from the North! Mr. and Mrs. Eskimo, David Valente and Kathleen Yodzio, welcome guests, David Baptiste, Carolyn Caffrey, Marjorie Fabritze, and Harry Fredericks to the frozen ballroom with programs and friendly smiles.

Ready for an enjoyable evening, James Hoek and Barbara Kozo prepare to enter the land of snow and ice at the Juniors' highly anticipated dance of the year.

What is more essential to an Alaskan dance than a trading post? Instead of fur trading, partners, programs, and friendly, good times are swapped evenly by the different couples. The trading business is very popular.

Making memories! Rockne Hall takes on a wintry atmosphere to set the background for our "arctic escapade." This, coupled with the music provided by Matt Gillespie and his orchestra, furnishes an enchanting evening long to be remembered by the Promers.

with Eskimos and icicles.

Who gets the last drop? Making pleasant conversation via mental telepathy are John Hercek and his date, Jean Niedospial. They exchange happy smiles between polite slurps.

Just checking, explains Ed Piervallo to fellow key-clubber Frank Samer at the Key Club Checking Booth as Donna DeLucia looks on. Their wraps in safe hands, they are free to enjoy the evening.

"Get this thing out of here before you cut the house to ribbons!" Harry (Josephine Toczeck), Mary Delaney (Christine Haczekwycz), and Jo. (Stephanie Yarema) giggle among themselves as Father Moynihan (Lawrence Mily) chides Owen Parkside (James Liptock) for bringing the lawnmower into the rectory living room. Nonchalant Owens listens to Father and obeys.

"How does this look, Father?" Sister Mary of the Angels (Joan Mihalcik) tries unsuccessfully to get Father Moynihan's (Lawrence Mily) approval of an addition to shy Shirley Tirabossi's (Lucretia Fulmer) school uniform.

Scanning the production book for last minute improvements are Father McNamara and Sister Eileen, the directors of the show. Their reward was complete success.

Senior talent merits critics praise in "Jenny Kissed Me"

Hard work, much time, great patience, able guidance, and the grace of God combined to make our Senior Class Play a huge success. This year's show, a three-act comedy entitled Jenny Kissed Me, was held in the Masson Auditorium during the week of December the fourth. The plot revolved around the title character Jenny, portrayed by Judith Frasch. The other principal characters included Father Moynihan (Lawrence Mily), Michael Sanders (Raymond Perkowski), Mrs. Deazy (Nancy Hohl) and Owen Parkside (James Liptock). The play was under the capable direction of Rev. John McNamara and Sister M. Eileen, S.S.J. A wonderfully humorous story develops when a country girl makes an impression on the city boys.

Is it possible? Could that be Father Moynihan (Lawrence Mily) feeding Jenny's guppies? It seems so strange to see Father doing this, since he strongly disapproved of having guppies in the rectory. Besides performing menial tasks, Father had other work. He had the job of making Jenny an attractive teenager.

"A taste of sherry, Michael?" As a refresher after a tiring day's work, a glass of sherry is offered to Michael Sanders (Raymond Perkowski) by Mrs. Deazy (Nancy Hohl). Michael has problems preventing Mrs. Deazy's leaving.

Their endeavors culminate success.

Michael Saunders (Raymond Perkowski) is flabbergasted as he sees Jenny (Judith Frasc) for the first time since Father's attempts at improvements. He seems satisfied.

Your move! Michael Saunders (Raymond Perkowski) and Father Moynihan (Lawrence Mily) engage in a game of chess while they discuss the future of Mrs. Deazy's niece. Father Moynihan opposes Jenny's visit and Michael speaks in her defense. Jenny proves to be a bigger problem than the game of chess could present.

Entertaining the audience between acts, and before the show was the task assigned to organists, Elizabeth Salabsky and Katherine Spanitz. Their performance resulted in enthusiastic approval.

"Stand right where you are." Father Moynihan (Lawrence Mily) compares two well-dressed teenagers, Jane (Elizabeth Deising) and Priscilla (Ann Haggerty), with his mental picture of Jenny. The bewildered young ladies present quite a different appearance.

Last minute touch up. Theresa Brennan and Mary Louise Haas apply makeup to Lawrence Mily and Lucretia Fulmer while Raymond Perkowski prepares to report to the stage.

Laughter is the best medicine, and this section of the Senior Class Play audience finds it an enjoyable cure. Their general reaction was of mixed pleasure and joy.

It's Musicale time.

Music making means long hours and hardwork. That is exactly the way to describe the efforts of the teaching staff of the music department and the students who have joined the various organizations within it. Sister Maria Assumpta, head of the department, is assisted by Sister Regina Angela and Mr. Fink. Together they spend many school and after school hours training instrumentalists and vocalists to perform with excellence. In addition to the daily professional instruction of our own full time teachers, local, professional musicians come to Central bimonthly to aid in the task of channeling teenage talent in the right direction. Mr. Karl Lantz, Mr. Walter Schmidt, and Mr. Wesley Fischer, all members of symphony orchestras in this area, coach stringed instruments, while Mr. Wayne Evans, Mr. Chester Heinze, and Mr. Bernard Beitel, professional band players assist with brass and woodwind. Mr. Raymond Schaefer teaches percussion. Central is proud of the results.

Meet two Sisters who help to keep the music department melody wise. They are Sister Maria Assumpta and Sister Regina Angela. Another good score is in the making.

So ends a Festival of Nations. Joseph Yapsuga, Charles Berger, Lorraine Senderak, and Christine Buragina, along with Christine Stoudt, Ellen Gregorec, Theodore Zeller and Michael Dellisant represent the strength of our country and the hope of the world. The familiar strains of Yankee Doodle brought these full-blooded Americans on stage in time to sing God of All the Nations, the finale.

Let's hear those horns! James Muffley, Robert Gaines, and Michael Mangan, along with Edward Rekai, Charlotte Hentz, and Robert Wiedl really know how to make music.

A melodious chime—that's the signal given by Marjorie Stupak to open this Musicales. Hundreds of eager mixed chorus and glee club members file in on the loud note.

One of our best pianists, Marlene Mizgerd, ignites our show with the Fire Dance. Marlene gives each audience a taste of always remembered Central Catholic talent.

Climb Every Mountain! This is one of the many selections from The Sound of Music that were sung in the first half finale of the Twenty-second Annual Musicales. Rodgers and Hammerstein, who have had many musical hits, are honored by the Mixed Chorus, the Band, and the Freshman Girls' Chorus. This talented ensemble charmed its attentive audience with many other catchy songs.

Shamrocks, shillelaghs, and smiles! We felt the effects of the Emerald Isle as Irish lad, James Williams, sang "You're Irish and You're Beautiful" to charming colleen, Joan Moynihan. The reaction of the audience was that of delighted enchantment.

Time and effort are the ingredients used by the members of the Mixed Chorus for their delightful presentations. They bring to the school the spirit of various seasons. The many voices blend to create most unusual and enjoyable arrangements.

Alpine allurement! Happy faces and pleasing melodies arise from the musical instruments of C. Tommer, P. Schmidt, P. Bilan, and E. Detweiler, as they relate the merry tale of a German highland.

C.C.H.S. echoes the Sakura. Under an Oriental influence, Margaret Suppan expresses her hopes for a new love affair in the spring. Combining a colorful background with exotic music produces the desired effect for the success of this song.

All Aboard! The Musicale tour of distant lands left at the beginning of this year's Twenty-Second Annual Musicale. The bandwagon transported enraptured audiences to a realm of songs and bliss. Our conductor, Mr. Joseph Fink, guided our paths to harmony and success. The indispensable Orchestra lent glorious strains to the enjoyment of the travelers. Whisking the audience away to the enchantment of Ireland, to picturesque Holland, and on to the gaiety of Italy and Spain, the Orchestra achieved an inspiring feat. The untiring efforts of Sisters Maria Assumpta and Regina Angela perfected the performance. The captivating renditions of the Mixed Chorus highlighted the evening's pleasure. We sensed pride in the heart-warming contributions of the Freshman Girls' Chorus. Atmosphere was set by our creative art department by the realistic background portraying the theme of the Musicale. The magnificent finale returned us to our beloved country.

Music! Music! Music! Through the efforts of the Orchestra, the Mixed Chorus, and the Girls' Glee Club, the C.C.H.S. Musicale is always a marvelous success. The Orchestra, composed of students of all grades, provides the music for the show, while the Mixed Chorus made up of boys and senior girls, and the Girls' Glee Club of sophomore and junior girls, provides entertainment with their combined talented voices. "Another Musicale, another success," has always been the motto of students such as these.

sound of music.

Frozen motion! Bernard Sullivan seems hypnotized as he pays close attention to the music. He can also be found building a crescendo on the kettle drums, but his xylophone touch adds a unique style to the melody.

Que Linda! are the last words spoken by this dashing caballero, Barry Thornton, to his beautiful senorita, Margaret Stupak. Both are reliving a genuine Spanish Flamenco sparked with elaborate costumes and scenery.

In the land of tulips these pretty maidens, Suzanne Brezina, Annette Tassie, Mary Ann Chudy, and Geraldine Sommers, can be found amidst the colorful field of tulips and towering windmills. This dance was one of the colorful highlights in which the songs, customs, and dress, representing different countries, were featured in short scenes in the balcony.

Blessed be God. Honor to the Blessed Virgin Mary inevitably leads to adoration of her divine Son. Recitation of the living rosary followed by Our Lady's litany draws the student body to the feet of the Eucharistic Christ at Benediction.

We consecrate ourselves . . . Mary Ryan, Mary Redington, Arthur Stesen, and Anthony Jagnesak stand at reverent attention ready to pick up the words of the Consecration to the Blessed Virgin Mary. Voices echo the sincerity of hearts.

Mary, our Queen, showers love on all.

May, the beautiful month dedicated to Our Lady, has a special meaning of its own at Central Catholic. Members of the Catholic Action Club, moderated by Sister Marian, sponsor the annual May Procession. Representatives from all of the homerooms participate in the living rosary; girls from Our Lady's Group and boys from the Mission Group make up the May Queen's Court; all give solemn tribute to Mary, our heavenly Queen. The ceremony comes to a fitting close with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

In his sermon to the student body, Father Daday, Central Catholic's principal, stressed the idea of making Mary our mother the patroness of all our endeavors in present and future life.

Carol Marchetto, our May Queen, prepares to crown the Queen of May. Carol represents the student body as she offers reverent homage to Mary.

Dynamite explodes!

Football comes and goes, but exciting memories of gridiron thrills linger on. Faced by a rough schedule, Central's Varsity did considerably well despite constant injuries to the squad. The team, composed of many juniors, was trained and conditioned under the skillful coaching of Mr. George Kinek and his assistants. The Central eleven were paced by the fine quarterbacking of Jack Callaghan, who is a junior, and by the excellent running and defense of senior Joe D'Annibale. Spirit ran high among the team and students, as shown by the team's ability in coordination when on the field and by the cheers and support displayed by the students who occupied the stands.

C.C.H.S. presents its varsity squad, who proved itself to be a hard-fighting team when it came up against real gridiron action. Row 1: Andy Brown, Frank Devers. Row 2: Gerry Fox, Sante Camo, Joe Strella, Michael Sweeney, Dennis O'Hara, Bob McKewen, Jack

Touchdown bound. Jack Callaghan takes advantage of an opening in the opposition's line and charges downfield. Good offensive tactics are shown by Joe D'Annibale, who provides interference, and by Bob Beiner who is rushing over to get into the action.

On the go! Junior signal caller, Jack Callaghan, with the able assistance of teammate and classmate Charley Granitz, seems to be destined to go all the way. Next year, as seniors, these lads will be greatly counted on.

Go get 'em, Joe! Coach Kinek, speaking from experience, instructs captain Joe D'Annibale as to how he wants the Viking offense to operate. The Vikes responded with a crushing victory over Notre Dame High.

Central gridders

Trouble's a brewing! Joe D'Annibale pivots hard as he strives to rid himself of a Reading Central player who seems quite persistent in his pursuit. Joe picked up considerable yardage before being brought down.

In full support of Gerry Fox, who seems to be handling the situation well, is Robert McKewen, with Frank Capobianco and Joe Karner ready to assist if needed. Our strong defense was a key factor in this year's campaign.

set the pace for Viking victories.

Clair Miller, Coach; Frank Sommer, and manager Michael Hancharik. These boys know that practice is the foundation for a successful team. Whether they emerge victor or loser from a game, they always go into it both mentally, and physically prepared.

The Viking JV football team started off the campaign with an impressive 19-0 win over Parkland. The baby Vikes' hopes for an undefeated season were brought to an end when they journeyed to Northampton Field and lost 21-12. Enthusiasm does not make touchdowns as the Vikes lost consecutive games to Dieruff, Easton, Bethlehem, William Allen and Notre Dame. The JV's lost only in score as their statistics proved them to have been a better team than their scores indicate. One touchdown was the difference of a win or a loss as four losses were suffered by a six-point margin. Sophomore backs Barry Giacobbe and Leo Seier headed the team in the scoring column with 18 and 12 points respectively. Coaches John Compardo and Clair Miller receive credit for a fine job done in coaching.

J.V.'s are the future.

Bill Deutsch displays his personal jump shot, as Ed Sarmir and Bob Horinko move into rebound positions.

Sarmir, Bob Andrew, Ed Fedok, Bill Washychyn, and Danny Olson, Manager. These boys put in a hard and well fought season, never giving up when the chips were down and always excelling in sportsmanship.

Viking Warriors aim high.

Even before the basketball season started, this year's Viking Team had been picked to be one of the better teams in the Lehigh Valley area. Winning the first game at Parkland by a narrow margin, the Vikes then proceeded to trounce Palmerton, Whitehall, Catasauqua, Lansford, and Emmaus, building up a 6 to 0 record. Joe Sarmir, captain and leading senior and rebounder, suffered a broken wrist during the Catasauqua game and could not play the remainder of the season. But the Vikes, after losing a few tough ones, held up the Viking tradition when they beat Allentown for the fourth straight year at Rockne Hall. The rebounding strength of Bob Lang, Bob Zobb, Paul Binder, Ed Sarmir, Jim Reisinger, and the back court play of Joe Mutis, Mike Zaia, Jack Lisicky, Bill Deutsch, Bob Horinko, Phil Dreisback, and Jack Callaghan have provided many exciting contests and have proved to be a winning combination.

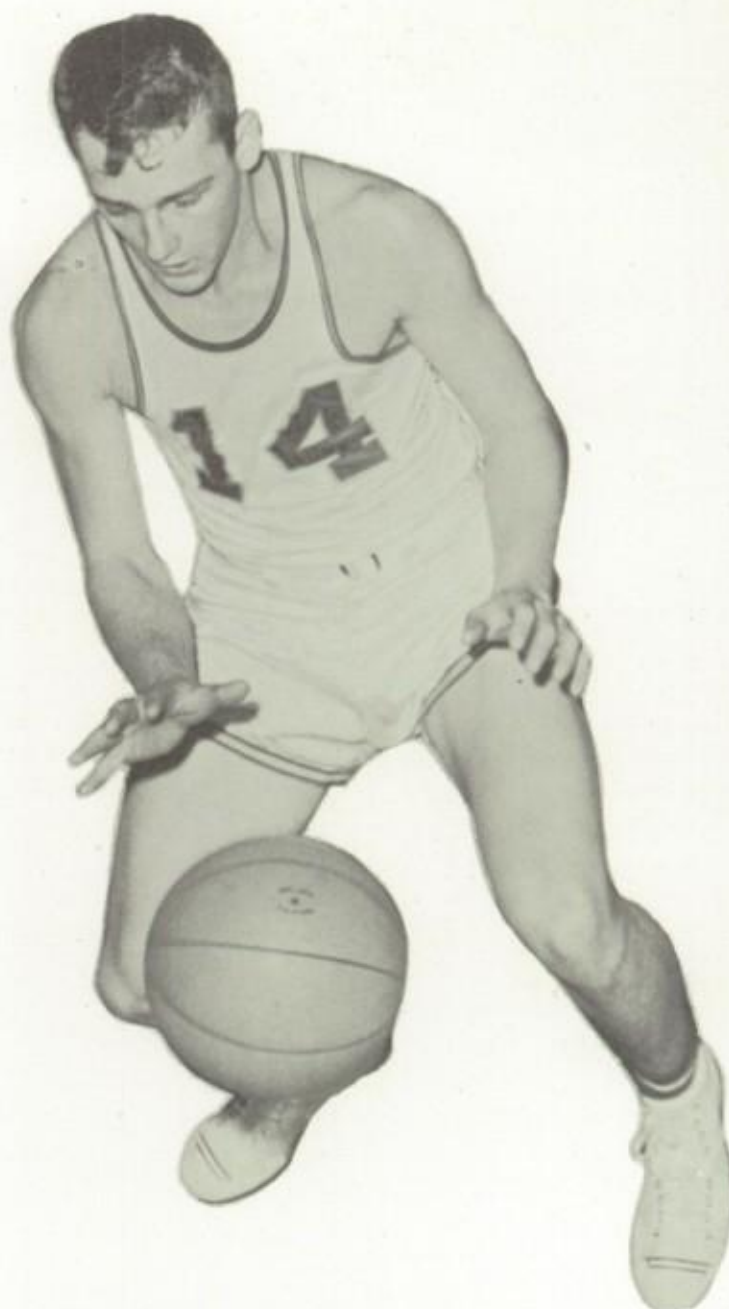

"I want that ball," says Jack Lisicky as he snares an all important Viking rebound against a scrappy Palmerton foe. Team spirit and constant hustle characterize Jack on and off the court. Jack, only a junior, should be a leader on next year's squad.

Victory is their goal.

Joe Mutis, junior backcourt ace, demonstrates his dribbling and ball handling skills which are topped only by his shooting eye.

Get that ball! All hands and eyes turn to the loose balls as players from both teams scramble for it. Determination is seen on the faces of the players as Vikes Joe Sarmir, Joe Mutis, and Bob Zobb go after the ball along with opposing Trojan players.

All hands off the deck! Phil Dreisbach (50) with the aid of Bob Lang (54), grapples for the rebound as Joe Sarmir anxiously awaits the outcome. This Viking trio constantly relieved Central's opponents of the ball by firm control of the backboards.

The world at his fingertips, and in this instance the world is worth two points. Jim Reisinger taps in the basket as backboard ace Robert Lang battles Bethlehem Catholic's number 25 for possible rebounding.

All the way! Four year veteran Mike Zaia glides in for what proved to be an easy deuce for the Vikings.

Look out when Central's Pep Club explodes with shouts and cheers as the Vikes get a two-pointer. When the action gets hot the fans get hotter, and almost bring the roof down. High spirit is typical of these students who have come to encourage the team to victory.

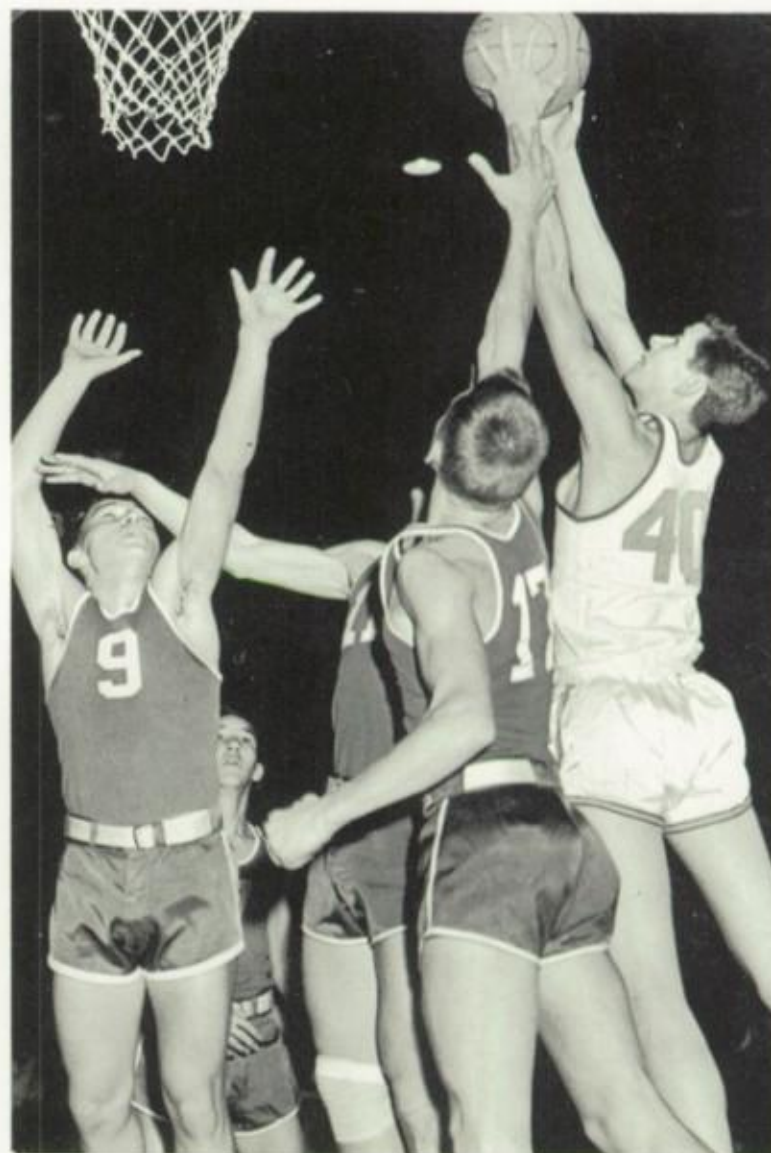

A lot depends on the making of every shot and Bob Andrew isn't one to miss. He also has proved to be a high-scoring credit to the J.V. team and has seen some varsity action.

Going Up! Sophomore Edward Sarmir intently guides the ball to the rim with both hands. Ed was a double threat this year contributing his abilities and efforts to both the varsity and junior varsity teams.

superior power during

Up and coming are our victorious Viking J.V.'s, many of whom have attained varsity spots because of their excellent playing and scoring. They have been ever successful under the coaching of Clair Miller, who seems to have brought out the best in them. The leading scorer on this year's team was Ed Fedok, who had 222 points. He was followed by Bob Andrew and Bill Washychyn with 220 and 194 points respectively. By playing J.V. ball young ballplayers receive matchless training in fighting the pressures of competitive play. They have excelled in sportsmanship and school spirit, brought about by the moral support of the student body. As we watch them play, we are able to predict a victorious future for the J.V.'s.

High-flying Vikettes capture

"Just try to get it," challenges Helen Moore to an ever-pressing Becahi forward as she waits for Pat Stangle and Barbara Moclock to move in for the next Vikette defensive maneuver. A guard is a must on any team. These three Vikette guards are the most.

Competent captain, Carol Kostelnik, an outstanding Vikette forward, shows her speed by successfully eluding a Becahi guard.

Away we go! Veronica Maurek, an alert Vikette, seems to imitate Jackie Gleason as she fights to retrieve the ball. The frantic waving of her guard has little effect on this undaunted player. Although only a sophomore, she plays with a show of experience.

The victorious Vikettes! Patricia Stangle, Barbara Moclock, Helen Moore, Carol Kostelnik, Mary Hart, Anna Marie Hussar, Rosemary Peters, Mary Nickel, Carol Trexler, Margaret Szever, Susan Weaver, Joanne Girard, Mary Ann Sihonyay, Mrs. Thomas Wendell, Jean Sipos, Jean Brugger, Elizabeth Shoemaker, Veronica Maurek, Joan Kobelman, Kathy Stader, Mary Alice Wright, Carla Phelps, Jane Clark, Christine Biggs, Barbara Hlay, Cynthia Phelps, Nora Seidick, and Rita McGinley smile at their well-earned victory.

East Penn League.

Only a capable coach like Mrs. Wendell and a hard working team like the Vikettes could have survived the ever-present pressures of East Penn League competition and wind up seasonal champs with a record of 8 wins and 0 losses. These victories were rewarded when the girls received the championship trophy. The Vikettes ended the season with 10 wins and 3 losses. The top scorer for them was Carol Kostelnik with 336 points and second best was Veronica Maurek with 247 points. The remaining offense includes Mary Hart, Anna Marie Hussar, Carol Trexler, and Susan Weaver. Making up the defense is Barbara Moclock, Helen Moore, Mary Alice Wright, and Jennie Sipos. These honors could not have been won without the help of the rest of the team and school spirit.

"It's all ours this year, girls!" shouts Mrs. Wendell, coach of our Vikettes, as she lifts the East Penn League trophy high into the air. Last year, the girls had to settle for a tie with Bethlehem, but this year they took the crown all by themselves.

Bunt attempt . . . Mike Zaia's effort seems to be in vain because of the lack of cooperation on the part of a Notre Dame pitcher. Amends were made on the very next pitch, when the senior slugger laid into the ball and rifled a base hit into left field.

Play ball is the call as the Vikes slug

thrilling season.*

"Looks good on paper," says Larry Mily over Coky Toth's right shoulder as Toth checks team statistics. Jim Jurnak on Larry's right and Fred Fried on the other end are also interested in the results. These four managers, who take care of equipment and records, prove to be valuable team assets.

"It's mine! It's mine!" hollers Steve Kotran as he waves off his teammates in another easy out for the Vike team.

That pop fly is a goner. A look of wonder covers Bob Henrick's face as he glues both eyes to a hard hit ball.

A mighty swing! Imagine how a baseball feels after being belted by veteran Joe Sarmir, a workhorse in the Viking offense.

Under the direction of Mr. Clair Miller, our new head baseball coach, the Vikings of Central Catholic anticipate a successful 1961 campaign. High hopes of a championship team lie in the experience, depth, and versatility of this year's squad. Operations center around veterans Frank Dox, Mike Zaia, Tom Metz, John Hercek, and Joe Sarmir. The competition of the East Penn League insures a season of thrill after thrill.

Putting it over is Frank Dox, veteran senior pitcher, whose pitching ability aids in Viking victories.

1961 Golfers tee off.

Perfect balance! Hoping for a par, Danny Olson blasts his way from a sand trap onto the 18th green. Watching intently is Joe Susko, whose 7 over par 77 proved to be the best effort by a Central golfer this season.

Something new has entered into the A.C.C.H.S. curriculum this year. Since golf is the highlight of many of the boys in the student body, it has been added to the ever increasing list of sports activities at school. Under the direction of Father Fromholzer, the 1961 golf team will enter into its first season of league play following last year's exhibition competition. The team is strong with seniors and many underclassmen who will take their place in future years.

Keep your eye on the ball and body erect! Our 1961 golf team from left to right: Father Fromholzer, moderator, Frank Kollar, Tommy Iacola, Tom Dunn, Joseph Susko and Danny Olson listen attentively as Father explains the proper technique for teeing off. Father's words of wisdom raise the hopes for our team as they open their first season of league play.

Veterans! The beaming faces of J. Fritz, J. Stupak, J. Hereck, E. Kelly, E. Kubinsky, B. Kemper, A. Hussar, and B. Simonelli indicate that these seniors have found their four years participation in the Police Athletic League bowling program worthwhile. Their experience is also indicated on the list of averages where their names are found at the top of the standings.

PAL Bowlers punish the pins.

Nice and easy does it! Having released their bowling balls, Ed Kubinsky and "Laddie" Hereck come to smooth and well-balanced stops. Constant practice accounts for their smoothness and the fact that they are the league's two top bowlers this year.

A broken arm didn't spoil Anna Marie Hussar's form or score. She is one of the League's best.

Weekends find the students swinging into action at the local lanes. The friendly competition in the Police Athletic League and the refreshing atmosphere of the alleys have attracted many young bowlers to show their skill. Forgetting the classroom worries and getting some not too strenuous exercise are the benefits of bowling. Viking keglers have been active in the league ever since it began five years ago. The boys' "High Five" have consistently won the city championship, and the girls add to the record with only one loss.

Senior Officers use Catholic ethics.

The senior student officers are always ready, willing, and able to be of any assistance. They are Gregory Feichtel, James Hoek, Elenore Horvath, and Gerald Adameik. You can be sure of a successful homeroom with these leaders.

Performing their duties in classes and halls, our representatives do their share to keep up the school spirit. Francis Solga, Bernadette Urban, Raymond Wolf, and Daniel Roman deserve much credit for a job well done.

Senior Representatives reflect high ideals.

Caught by the camera! The smiles of Central Catholic's Junior Varsity cheerleaders give off their vivacious charm. Following in the footsteps of the varsity squad, Lois Gabriel, Patricia Franges, Carole Perkowski, Patricia Burian, Frances Krah, and Sylvia Seng do an excellent job in cheering for the Junior Varsity teams. These energetic sophomores can also be found encouraging the Girls' Basketball team to victory. Their unselfish efforts, aroused by enthusiasm, contribute to the success of school sports and sportsmanship.

A. A. encourages good sportsmanship.

Let's really roll, Vikes! The officers of our Athletic Association do a magnificent job promoting school spirit. Under the guidance of Sister Martin Joseph, the students unselfishly and cheerfully lend their free time to direct the various sports activities of the year. Elaine Rockovits, Charles Worman, and James Reichert are untiring in their efforts to have the entire student body present at all our games. Placing their ideas on the above bulletin board helps them to attain this goal.

Stamp Collectors Anonymous. This is just one of the many projects the members of Catholic Action participate in throughout the year at Central. Besides aiding the missions in this way, students of this organization may be seen doing anything from preparing the altar for Mass to delivering Catholic literature to the students. Under the guidance of Sister Marion, C. Ressler, D. Baptiste, A. Munjone, P. Kish, J. Stubits, A. Spitzer, and R. Kozo do their job in the true spirit of Christian charity.

Finding the unknown can be done. The members of the Math Club recognize the fact that math is important in this ever-changing world. In the interest of understanding it more clearly, these boys meet weekly to discuss new advances in the subject; seated: Michael Proc, Francis Polaha and John Sedor. Other members: John Miletics, Thomas Prachar, John Moessner, Bernard Grim, William Wallitsch, Thomas Gabriel, and Joseph Toplak. Sister Beatrice acquaints them with some mathematical geniuses of years gone by.

Click, Click, Click! The geiger counter is ticking off the radioactivity of the treated sample. The members of the Science Club learn to operate and read the meters. Furthering their knowledge of nuclear physics are Karl Buesgen, Carol Kastelnik, Joseph Boyle, and Roger Greenall. Under the direction of Sister Marie Kathleen these students prepare for a career in the field of nuclear physics. The club also teaches students to live in a modern age where atomic energy will be used commonly.

Now open wide! Doctor Tate checks Phyllis Regec's throat as a part of her yearly physical examination. Mrs. Matthew Brennan, the school nurse, marks Doctor Tate's observation on a record sheet which also carries a report of eyesight and hearing abilities, height, and weight. Physical examinations are not the only reasons students pass through the portals of the infirmary. Sore throats, colds, and upset stomachs are met with a smile and a pill.

Speech grooms the orators of tomorrow.

"I would like to present . . ." The students of Sister Eileen's speech class learn the correct procedure in introducing a guest speaker. Laurence Mily and Robert Saks demonstrate one of the many types of speeches taught in the senior year. This class gives students poise and the ability to speak publicly. They learn voice control, enunciation, and dignity of bearing. They also realize the necessity of combining these qualities with the proper material to hold the attention of their audiences.

Today's students are tomorrow's teachers.

Aim high! Be a teacher. This poster illustrates well the purpose of Central's Future Teachers Club. Making its first appearance this year, it has already helped many enthusiastic students make preparations for their tentative career. The club, under the direction of Sister Silverius, aims to point out the many aspects and phases of teaching in this modern world. Bernard Grim, president of the club, guided by Sister Silverius, explains to a few of his fellow members: F. Ryan, B. Kessler, B. Hanlon, W. Wallitsch and D. Kiss the aims of a teacher.

Stage Hands efficiently set the scenes.

Art Club cultivates talent.

Be a clown! The circus clowns depicting our Variety Show are used to decorate the chart showing the percentage of each homeroom in ticket sales. Delores Dreas, Barbara Dolgas, and Anna Marie Dixon, all Art Club members, are responsible for the work on this chart. Each member of the organization contributes his or her artistic skill to the projects undertaken every year. Under the direction of Sr. Hilda, the club cultivates the undeveloped talent of a number of potential artists.

Their perseverance promotes progress.

Aquanauts advance in ability.

Calling all aquanauts! Centralites, Coleman Toth, Gregory Feichtel, Raymond Perkowski, Michael Briody, Martin Torbert, and Robert Gotthardt dive into the Carroll Hall swimming pool over the heads of other candidate swimmers. Under the instruction of the coach, Mr. Schown, the boys hope to enter into competitive swimming this year in preparation for next year's team. A new club is in the swim.

It's the beginning of the end! Eugene Seagreaves with Frances Pammer, Joan Zwikl with Thomas Gabriel, and Antoinette Gutleber with Michael Simpson try gowns for size as Alfred Fritz gives himself the last minute touches in front of the mirror.

"Silhouette of the future." Yesterday's dream is today's reality. The Baccalaureate Mass marks the beginning of the end. Standing on the threshold of tomorrow, the graduates face the problems of the future with confidence and assurance.

The graduating class of 1961 has witnessed many changes while at Central Catholic High School. The major alteration was the establishing of Carroll Hall, the new annex. This class was the first to use its facilities and therefore led the way for many succeeding freshmen. As seniors they shared in the thrill of having Allentown, in which the school is located, raised to a diocese. While the surroundings advanced, the students did likewise. Much scholastic effort was issued on their part, and now they reap their rewards. Many of this class will enter institutions of higher learning, others will pursue business careers, and still others will enlist in the armed forces. The graduates of today, the alumni of tomorrow, will not seek their goals unprepared. They will face the challenges with a firm foundation in a fine Catholic education.

Reverend Francis J. Donnelly, rector of Saint Catharine of Siena Cathedral, inspires graduates with his invocation. Reverend Stephen J. Daday, Principal, and Reverend William P. Hoffner, Administrative Assistant, join him reverently.

A grand conclusion for notable scholastic achievements unfolds for these students who have maintained honors throughout their high school years.
